

Global Diversity and Inclusion Benchmarks

The GDIB Newsletter

For: Expert Panelists, Users and Others Interested in the GDIB

Editor: GDIB Co-author Julie O'Mara

Issue: January 20, 2015

The GDIB—Global Diversity and Inclusion Benchmarks: Standards for Organizations Around the World—helps organizations of all sizes around the world, in a variety of sectors, using a variety of approaches to D&I work, achieve high-quality D&I outcomes. First published in 2006, the 2014 edition is authored by Julie O'Mara and Alan Richter, Ph.D., and 80 Expert Panelists. It is sponsored by The Diversity Collegium, a nonprofit organization dedicated to advancing the field of diversity and inclusion through think tank dialogues, symposia, research, and publications. The GDIB is free of charge and may be downloaded at www.diversitycollegium.org Check regularly for more User Tools.

Please pass this newsletter along to others. We have a goal to increase the visibility of the GDIB. Just send us potential reader contact information and we will add them. Thank you.

OUR WISHES FOR WORLD PEACE

With the New Year we wish for all a WORLD of PEACE. Let's commit to considering how our work of developing D&I global best practices can contribute in some real way to making world peace a reality in our lifetime.

TEXAS HISTORICAL COMMISSION USES VISUALIZATION EXERCISE WITH GDIB TO SHOW RESULTS

From 2007-2012 EP Kelli McLoud-Schingen worked with the Texas Historical Commission to assist them with developing a more inclusive agency. Central to the curriculum was the use of the Global Diversity and Inclusion Benchmarks. She facilitated an Inclusive Leadership session for the Executive Director, Deputy Director and each Department Director. During this Inclusive Leadership Session she asked the participants to envision, with regard to Diversity and Inclusion efforts, who they wanted to Be, Become, and Be Known for. After the visualization exercise she asked the participants to write down 3 goals for their specific area.

Kelli walked them through the GDIB in small groups. They rated where they felt the agency fell in each of the categories. It was revealed that the Agency overall was operating at lower than desired levels on most of the 14 benchmarked categories while the results of the specific departments varied. They were surprised, yet motivated to move into the higher levels. At the end of the session the participants wrote letters to themselves with their personal and professional commitments to the benchmarked categories, sealed them and self-addressed them and these letters were mailed back to the participants exactly one year later so they could measure their success. In a message from the Executive Director following the session he said, "the GDIB is an excellent resource to discuss tangible ways the organization can challenge itself to do better." And a year later, there were very clear results from the use of the GDIB.

EP MARY-FRANCES WINTERS IS FEATURING GDIB – A 4-Part Series -- IN INCLUSION SOLUTION BLOG IN THE MONTH OF JANUARY

Thank you Mary-Frances. You can subscribe to her blog at <http://www.theinclusionsolution.me/subscribe/> It's free. EP LUCIE HOUE AUTHORS ARTICLE ON D&I BENCHMARKING IN FRENCH PROFESSIONAL HR JOURNAL

Here is the article on Lucie's website: <http://www.archetypes-inter.net/prendre-le-virage-diversite-13-categories-pour-vous-positionner-comme-employeur-de-choix/>

The title, Prendre le virage diversité, translates to "making an important strategic shift towards diversity." She took the angle of what best employers do to position themselves as such with regards to diversity and inclusion. (Employeur de choix). Also as a conclusion, she wrote some clues to motivate managers to take the Diversity turn (Virage diversité). Great article, Lucie. TIP: Use Google Translate if you need a free translation service to read the article.

REQUEST FOR EXAMPLES FROM EP LUBY ISMAIL

Luby is speaking at the Forum for Workplace Inclusion (see conference description below), March 17 to 19 in Minneapolis on "Language Diversity dealing with how organizations are building a work environment that looks at language and accent diversity as an asset." She's looking for examples of organizations that do that. And "with the latest incidents between law enforcement and communities, particularly the African American communities, I am discussing strategies to engage with police and build their cultural competence. Are there examples of best practices and how benchmarks in the GDIB work for police departments?" Contact Luby at: luby@connecting-cultures.net Thank you.

NEWS, REQUESTS, AND IDEAS FROM JULIE, ALAN, AND THE DIVERSITY COLLEGIUM

RESEARCH FOR 2016 GDIB EDITION BEGINS FEBRUARY 1, 2015 – SUGGESTIONS WELCOMED

The Expert Panelists -- guided in a research process by Julie & Alan, GDIB authors -- will embark on a 4 Step Research process starting February 1 and ending November 30, 2015. The goal is to review all aspects of the GDIB and make improvements that help achieve the three GDIB goals: increasing usability, visibility and relevance. If you have suggestions, ideas, complaints, issues -- whatever -- about the GDIB, please tell Julie & Alan now and we will incorporate that into the design process. Thank you.

INTERESTED IN AN ONLINE GDIB ASSESSMENT TOOL?

Many people have expressed interest in having an online assessment tool based on the GDIB. We are interested in creating one. Of course, we want it to be psychometrically sound and user-friendly. We want something more robust and accurate than a checklist. We're talking with several people about how to make this happen. Significant funding to create the tool, test it, market it, and support it will be needed. Let us know if you would be interested in an assessment tool and whether or not you might be interested in joining a consortium to make this happen.

BIOS OF EXPERT PANELISTS

Each issue of this newsletter will contain four bios. Bios of GDIB Expert Panelists are on www.diversitycollegium.org, navigate to Global D&I Benchmarks, and scroll down to Expert Panelists.

PLEASE DONATE TO DIVERSITY COLLEGIUM FOR GDIB

If you can, please contribute to funding the GDIB. And if your organization or your client organizations are able to give grants, let us know. We have so many ideas for research projects and user tools — and thank you to all of you who keep sending us ideas. We continue to get amazing positive feedback and thank yous for doing the GDIB. It has now grown to more than Alan and I can fund by ourselves. The Diversity Collegium is engaged and soon we'll be doing some specific fundraising, but we could use some general help now. Let us know if you personally or your organization can contribute and we'll facilitate the process. We'll soon have a donation button on www.diversitycollegium.org.

OFFERING SUPPORT

If you want to use the GDIB in conference presentations, blogs, articles, chapters and so forth, we will support you, if we can, by providing slides, handouts, and ideas.
