DIVERSITY: LOOKING AHEAD
Lani Roberts, Ph.D.

Suggested Discussion Questions

1. What is the difference between training and education? What effects, if any, does this distinction have on diversity programs?
2. Do Leopold's insights regarding the diversity of nature illuminate discussions about the human community? What would an analogous conception of human ecology look like?
3. Are there significant characteristics shared by the "isms" ? If so, would it be helpful for diversity strategies to incorporate these common elements?
4. What do you think the ultimate goal of diversity work is? Is there general agreement in this regard? In what way(s) should this insight contribute to formulation of diversity strategies?
